INTRODUCTION

---

I'm a junior front end developer ready to enter the professional leagues. My ambition is to be able to work as a front end developer and be a valuable asset to a team. I, unfortunately, did not find my passion for software earlier in my career, I have completely retrained and I am eager to work, and learn in an established team. I've developed several websites and web applications to showcase my abilities. I'm also an advocate for open-source projects. You can find my portfolio at martinolasz.dev
